SUMMARY

I am an active and communicative individual with a strong preference for hands-on work or tasks that rely on technical skills. While I do not focus heavily on deep analysis, I excel in efficiently carrying out practical technical tasks. I am currently actively seeking employment, especially in fields that prioritize practical skills.

I am eager to start my career as soon as possible and prefer jobs that offer clear and immediate opportunities. I am ready to learn, adapt, and grow in a work environment that demands hands-on technical abilities.
